What is BMJ Learning?

BMJ Learning provides accredited online learning modules for healthcare professionals to help with training and CPD. BMJ Learning includes:

- Independent and peer reviewed modules, written by experts using the latest available evidence.
- Hundreds of modules sorted by specialty and type to help you find relevant content on your personalised homepage.
- Clinical scenarios giving you the opportunity to test your knowledge in practice.
- Insightful user reviews to aid appropriate selection of modules.
- Pause and restart modules in order for sections to be completed at an opportune time during hectic schedules.
- The ability to print certificates upon successful completion of modules to demonstrate tangible evidence of learning.

How can I access it?

1. First time users: If you don't have an NHS OpenAthens account, register at: https://openathens.nice.org.uk

2. Go to learning.bmj.com and click 'Log in'.

3. Select the OpenAthens link in 'Institutional log in' and search for 'NHS in England'.

4. Sign in using your OpenAthens username and password. You will then be prompted to create your free personal account on BMJ Learning. Click to create your account and start learning.
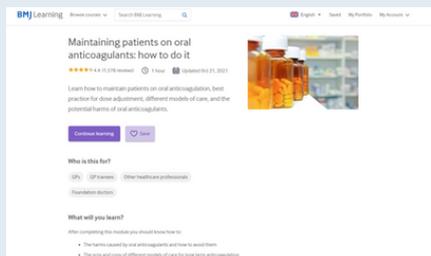

Searching BMJ Learning

Search - You can use the search bar to type subjects, profession or keywords which are of interest to you. This will display a list of the modules which are relevant to your search topic.

Browse by specialty - You can select your prefered course by clicking on one of the 'Browse by specialty' boxes on the homepage, or select the 'Browse courses' drop down function.

Continue your learning in progress - Courses you have already started will appear on your homepage when logged in. Click on the course to dive back in or click 'See more' to visit your BMJ Portfolio.

Completing modules - From the module homepage you will be given the option to either 'Start module' or 'Add to portfolio'. As you work through the module your progress will automatically be saved. You can add the module to your BMJ Portfolio to complete later. If you choose to start the module now, it will automatically be added to your BMJ Portfolio.
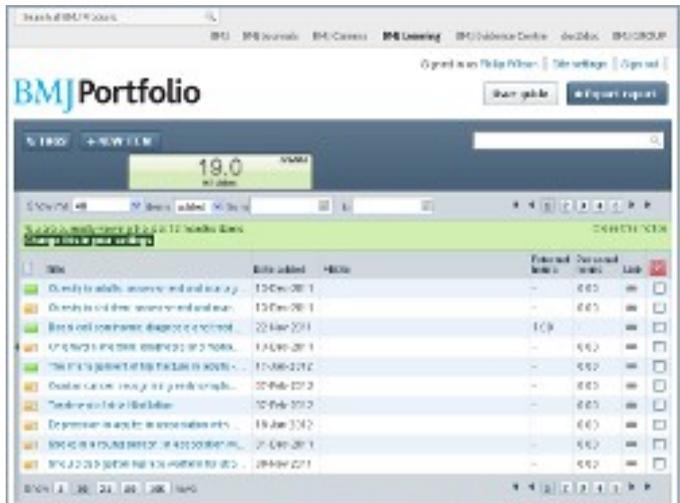

BMJ Portfolio

BMJ Portfolio is a free online tool to help you plan and record your continuing medical education. It's personal to you, secure, and easy to use.

You can find it at http://portfolio.bmj.com.

If you've already signed up to use BMJ Learning or BMJ Best Practice, you can use your existing username and password to sign in to BMJ Portfolio.
